Storm slams Elk Point

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

A massive storm wreaked havoc across a wide area on Thursday evening, with torrential rain, large hail and extremely strong winds leaving a path of destruction and power outages in its wake.

In Elk Point, streets and a number of driveways were blocked by falling trees, other trees landing on homes, yards, school playgrounds and parks in virtually all areas of town, one evergreen uprooted on the lawn of Fort George Manor and a huge part of another landing beside Elk Point Outreach School, while at least one tree landed on a holiday trailer. A light standard crashed to the ground in front of ATB Financial, its lush hanging basket of petunias shattered to a sodden mess.

Residents watched in horror as trees thrashed in the wind and toppled to the ground, and marvelled at the downpour, which in some areas dumped in excess of two inches of water in a very short time, looking almost like snow as it swirled around the community. Hail in town was small, according to residents, but in some of the rural areas, crops, gardens, buildings and vehicles were pelted with hailstones ranging from marble size to golf ball size, with some even said to be fist-sized.

Town welcomes Elk Point's new RCMP sergeant

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point town council gave a wholehearted welcome to Elk Point's newly arrived RCMP Sgt. Terry Hyggen, who said the community "already feels like home."

Sgt. Hyggen has been with the RCMP for 15 years, starting his career in 2002 in Sandy Bay, SK, very near the Manitoba border. In 2004, he was transferred to Lloydminster, an extremely busy detachment, and spent time with Saskatoon's major crimes unit, traveling all over northern Saskatchewan. "I wanted a home life, and opportunity knocked," he told council, with a transfer to Yorkton, SK, where he spent the past six and one half years, rising through the ranks to acting staff sergeant. In that community, he said, he kept in close contact with the mayor and council and enjoyed doing so.

The sergeant said that while working out of Lloydminster, he had been up this way a number of times and is now "really happy to be back in the area, I'm really grateful (to be posted here). Elk Point is very friendly, and it is my intention to put down roots here."

"You have showed your commitment to Elk Point by already buying a house here," Mayor Parrish Tung said. "We appreciate it." Coun. Dwayne Yaremkevich extended an invitation to the next meeting of the Community Advisory Policing Committee, on which he represents the town, that meeting coming up Sept. 12. Deputy Mayor Lorne Young and Coun. Bernice Capjack both added sincere welcomes to the community.

Coun. Debra McQuinn already had a project in mind for the new sergeant, saying that gravel haulers are not slowing down going through town on Highway 41 and that some of them do not have their loads secured with tarps and are subsequently losing rocks, some of which have damaged vehicles. Sgt. Hyggen said he has already talked to the Highway Traffic Board and will bring this concern to an already scheduled upcoming meeting.

Fenced in

An issue with a potentially dangerous dog escaping a fenced yard dating back to mid-2016 was brought back to council, after the owners were given an extension of time to June 1 of this year to construct a higher fence to contain the animal. The fence has not been made higher, but with no further complaints coming forward about the dog, council concludes that other measures have been taken to remedy the situation. The owner will be invited to come in and tell administration what has been done to solve the problem.

No contest

The Alberta Urban Municipalities Association's invitation to enter a contest on creative ways to spend a recent rebate came back to the council table, but no great ideas had come forward, and council agreed to file the invitation for information.

Water loss

A mystery regarding disappearing treated water has been solved, at least in part. With 15.2 per cent of the town's treated water not making its way through meters, the Public Works department has been checking various areas of town and discovered that while Fort George Motel is on a meter, the water for the RV park and shower house is not. Council moved to enforce the water use bylaw and remedy the situation.

Exit sign

Council approved a recommendation from the Public Works meeting to go ahead with the proposed design for an exit sign reading "Come Again" and also approved benches to be located near the sign.

Elk Point RCMP arrest erratic driver after crash

ELK POINT RCMP

On July 11 at approximately 3:12 p.m., Elk Point RCMP responded to an erratic driver passing through a construction zone on Highway 41. While responding, police were provided an update regarding a collision that occurred on Highway 29 and Range Road 73.

Upon arrival police learned that a head on collision had occurred involving the same erratic driver that was reported resulting in a head on collision with another vehicle when it crossed the centre line. Members along with St. Paul RCMP arrived within minutes and learned that the suspect had fled on foot into an adjacent field. A search was conducted and the suspect driver was located and arrested a short time later. He was transported to hospital with serious but non life-threatening injuries from the collision. The vehicle he was driving was previously reported stolen from Cold Lake.

The lone occupant of the vehicle that was hit head on was treated for serious but non life-threatening injuries, and also transported to hospital by EMS.

A 37-year-old man is now facing charges of dangerous driving causing bodily harm, failing to remain at the scene of a collision, possession of stolen property, driving while suspended, and resisting arrest.

His name cannot be released at this time pending swearing of an information.

Pursuant to Section 1(i) of the Municipal Government Act an "elector" means

1. A person who is eligible to vote in the election for a councillor under the Local Authorities Election Act.

Pursuant to Section 47(1) of the Local Authorities Election Act a person is eligible to vote in an election if he:

(a) is at least 18 years old

SAD ENDING - One of Elk Point's lovely flower baskets came to a sad end when the light standard in front of ATB Financial toppled in the storm.

NO EXIT - The owner of this vehicle may have a bit of a problem getting out of this Ravine Drive driveway, which was blocked by a fallen tree.

Storm

The sound of chain-saws hard at work echoed across the community Friday morning, as fallen trees were reduced to firewood and piles of branches to be hauled off to the landfill site, which was open on Friday to give residents an extra day to haul in the numerous loads of storm debris.

Town council

Borrowing bylaw

The borrowing bylaw that would allow the town to refinance the balance of Loan Five, taken out for the water reservoir, in order to lock in an interest rate with Alberta Capital Finance, is currently being advertised prior to a public hearing, because, as CAO Ken Gwozdz said, on $900,000 over nine years, "0.3 per cent adds up." Gwozdz was given the go-ahead to start working on an application for the loan, ready to submit if all goes well at the public hearing.

Emergency Social Services

The Town received a request for support of a resolution to integrate Emergency Social Services into Emergency Management at a provincial level and agreed this would be a good move. They will send a letter of support.

Purchasing policy

The town is adding a clause on Sole Source Purchases to their Purchasing Policy, to be used when there is only one available supplier of a required product or service that meets the needs of the town, with the clause subject to regular review. It is felt that this will help to get necessary projects completed in a timely fashion.

Dog fines

Four-legged friends were back on the agenda later in the meeting, when a dog owner asked for forgiveness on fines for late payment of animal license fees. The request was denied.

Municipal election

Three matters pertaining to the October municipal election were brought before council. Honoraria fees for the Returning Officer and Deputy Returning Officer were approved, and a date was set for the institutional vote. An advance vote date and time is yet to be determined, because of a conflict with the regular meeting of council, with the administration to determine the appropriate date as per the Elections Act.

One bill

A property owner with two water meters on two adjacent lots will only be sent one bill for both meters in the future, and only one garbage disposal fee will be charged, council agreed, after receiving a request from the owner.

Methane emissions

Council has directed the administration to send a letter to Mark Cauchi, Executive Director of the Oil Gas and Alternate Energy Division of Environment and Climate Change Canada, stating that the Town of Elk Point strongly opposes planned federal government changes in regulations regarding methane emissions. Copies of the letter are to be sent to MP Shannon Stubbs, MLA David Hanson, the County of St. Paul and other appropriate officials.

Donation

The McFadyen family has advised the town that they would like to donate two metal benches for placement in the East Cemetery. Council agreed to accept, with the benches to be placed according to the family's request.

Subdivision

Council approved a proposed subdivision plan that would create three 60 m wide lots on the west end of the property owned by the Elk Point Agricultural Society. All adjacent landowners are currently being notified by Municipal Planning Service of the proposed subdivision. Council is currently in negotiations with the Ag Society to purchase the most southern of the three lots as a site for their bulk water station.

Boulevard parking

The town received an offer from a homeowner to lease the boulevard adjacent to the home for occasional parking of a motorhome by visitors. After discussing the matter at some length with the homeowner, and a later discussion by Council, it was decided to relax regulations to allow parking on the boulevard during the summer, however it must be parked off town property in the winter, as per the bylaw.

Federal gas tax fund

Council passed a motion that their Federal Gas Tax Fund allotment should be spent on the capital purchase of an automatic transfer switch and variable speed pumps.

New banners looking good!

Compliments to the Town of Elk Point on the very attractive additions they have made to the upgraded walking trail - the hanging baskets and those handsome banners sure look great!

And to think that it took so many years to convince the powers that be that we needed those hanging baskets! They definitely do take some work to put up and keep watered, but they really dress up the downtown core, and now the walking trail as well.

With Elk Point being located along The Great Trail, as the Trans Canada Trail is now being called, we really needed to show our pride in the trail, and the upgraded walking trail is a very fitting way to do that. Once the new sidewalk is in place along Railway Ave., it's going to really be a showpiece!

RECREATION CORNER

Volunteers came through when needed

recreation@elkpoint.ca
Review Contributor

I would like to once again thank the Canada Day Committee and all the volunteers who came out to help with the success of the event. Going into this year there was a fear that we wouldn't get the volunteer base we need to host such an amazing event; but a lot of you stepped up and came through to help out. So thank you!

I wanted to throw this question out there - Why are we seeing less volunteers "now-a-days"? I hear that quite a lot, to tell you the truth. And I honestly can't answer it, but I do see the same faces on multiple boards and committee, which gets me wondering the same.

Is it that our personal lives are so busy or maybe we are unaware of the help needed to keep a community going?

Now, please don't get me wrong, we have a lot of volunteers in our community and a lot of passionate people who keep the non-profits strong and vibrant. Yet, I still hear the same comments.

I do by example and both my parents are strong community members, who are always giving back in many ways. So maybe that's where it starts. My dad started because when my brother and I were in sports there was a need for a coach or a driver, and then he continued on volunteering because he fell in love with the sports.

So I think that's the key piece to the volunteering puzzle - finding something you love. Not everyone has time to commit twice a week, but maybe you can do once a month - like the ROCK Foundation or Lions. Or maybe you can do one event, like Canada Day or Extravaganza. Or maybe you want to lead a project, like a skate park?!

Whatever it is, make sure you have the time to commit in the long term - but most importantly, volunteer for something you're passionate about. Maybe it's something the community doesn't have that you would like to see it have? Whatever it is, I can always help direct you to where you may be needed or how you can get started!

WAY BACK WHEN...

Sod turning, church rezoning, pioneer school, mayors return

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF JULY 18 IN...

1987

Crystal McPherson turned the sod to officially begin construction of a 13,198 square foot auto centre that would house Lakeland Tire, Ultimate Glass and Upholstery and Bumper to Bumper, and would also feature a convenience store and gas bar. A neighbourhood playground in the North Subdivision was one of the recipients of Community Recreation and Cultural Grant funding, with two lots allocated and neighbourhood residents eager to carry out the work.

1992

Town council passed a bylaw permitting rezoning three lots at the southwest corner of town from high density residential to institutional as a potential site for a new Roman Catholic church. F. G. Miller's Class of 1972 was reunited to reminisce about their school days two decades earlier.

1997

Stoney Lake Stampede boasted a local winner when Erica Nielsen was named the Junior Barrel Racing champion. Jamie Schnurer won the All-Around championship at the Elk Point Saddle Slickers 4-H Light Horse Club achievement day after she and Ashley Larson both presented impromptu speeches to break a tie in the point standings.

2002

Elk Point's first school site was dedicated as the ribbon held by students of that school, Lyle and Ivan Howe, Rose Blacklock, Martha Lorensen and Wes Scott was cut by their schoolmate, Sid Holthe, on a handsome wrought iron sign two miles east of town along Highway 646. Town council considered moving up the date for replacement of the town fire truck, depending on the cost of repairs needed by the current unit.

The cancellation of proposed curb, gutter and paving upgrades on 49 Ave. left the town with the potential to repair other roads, with Railway Ave. east of Highway 41 one of the possibilities, and town manager Myron Goyan to get prices on the project.

FORMER MAYORS Allan Buck, Ed Buck and Bruce Kleeberger were among the special guests at Elk Point's Centennial celebrations and were welcomed back by current Mayor Parrish Tung

Elk Point town council took two extra days and a special meeting to iron out the details, but two parts of their planned walking trail project would now have a go-ahead, with council approved the tender for the walking trail through the ravine to the Elk Point Recreation Park and for the widening the east side of 54 Street from Railway Ave. to Highway 646 to make it safer for pedestrians. The Backroads and Beaver Hats mystery could well have been called 'the case of the missing clue' as eight GPS-equipped teams returned to Fort George and Buckingham House historic site mystified by their inability to find one of the new event's eight clues.

A 'You win some, you lose some' weekend

Baseball can be very unkind sometimes! It can take a lot of the patience and practice to be good at it and even then sometimes no matter what you do the ball will bounce the other way on you!

Last Monday night the Bantam Sox played a very good game, one of the best I have witnessed. Dalton '007' Reed was on the hill and throwing some major heat, chopping down the Fort Saskatchewan Red Sox. The bats were hot too. The Bonnyville product, Ethan Vassuer pounding a home run out of the park, Cody 'the Babe' Fairbairn with a ground rule double bouncing one over the fence, Colton 'Big Mac' McLean also hitting a double, the final score 12 to 4 after 6 innings when the game was called because of darkness.

The weekend round robin didn't go as well. It was hotter than heck on Saturday but the Bantam Sox were not. The boys were scheduled to play Barrhead Orioles at noon but very few of them showed up to play. Ethan Vassuer getting the call up on the mound didn't get any support from the fielders; the game was full of errors. Easy outs became misplays and the bats had no pop in them at all, the boys losing in five innings by the mercy rule. Mind you, it was hot, plus 30 by game time, but it still didn't seem to affect the other team. Still cooking hot for the 6 p.m. game against High Prairie, but the Sox started off much better. The fielders were managing to make some plays and help out the pitcher Cody 'the Babe' Fairbairn. But the Hazards had their ace on the hill and he was in total control of the game, not much the boys could do against him, he was having a great game, striking out 12 batters, he really didn't need a lot of help from his fielders. The score still not too bad, 7 to 0 after six innings when the 'Babe' was maxed out on pitch count, bringing in Graham 'Uncle Cracker' Broda to the mound, but he couldn't hold the Hazards off the board and the Sox couldn't get on base. The final inning didn't go very well at all, getting three out was quite a challenge, the score well into the double digits when the game ended. The next day, the Sox game at 4 p.m. against Stettler was rained out and will be rescheduled. The boys will now travel to Whitecourt for the next round next weekend.

The Pee wee Puma girls played in the D Provincials finals this past weekend in Leslieville, playing four games, and although they didn't win any of them, they were all close games with the exception of one and the girls gained a ton of great experience. Makenna Rose with a triple, driving in two runs was the MVP for the first game, Sydnee 'the Kid' Crawford doing a diving catch for the third out was the MVP in the second
